

Allen Cemetery

77 north to FM 485 - right on 485 to CR 140 - left on CR 140 for
(6 miles to Walkers Creek Cemetery)

7.5 miles to small bridge before the curve □ go 0.5 mile to gate on right.
Permission is needed to enter pasture on private property.

Allen Cemetery - Located in the northeast quadrant of Milam Co. about 7-miles from Cameron. To get to the inactive cemetery from Cameron, drive north on US Hwy 77 for 5-miles and turn right onto FM 485. At CR 140 or the Silver City road, turn left and follow it for 6-miles to Walker's Creek Cemetery. Continue on the paved road for 1.5-miles There is a small bridge before the curve. Go about one-half mile and turn right and pass through a gate. Permission must be secured to enter the open pasture on this private property. The cemetery lies about one-quarter mile to the south end of the field in some large oak trees and it has a rusted wrought iron, ornamental fence around it. The historically famous Allen Springs are located on these premises. The area was a watering place for Indians before Stephen F. Austin and Sterling Robertson founded their colonies in the mid-1830s. By 1836, the springs were widely known.

If you have any information regarding this cemetery - especially directions to the Cemetery or photos - please send them to us for adding to this site.
You will be given credit for info/photos